As an Edward Jones financial advisor, I believe it's important to invest my time in understanding what you're working toward before you invest your money. Working closely with you and your CPA, attorney and other professionals, I can determine the most appropriate financial strategy for you and your family. I can also help with your retirement saving strategy, so you have more options when you retire, regardless of what you decide to do.

In 2004, I began my Edward Jones career at the headquarters, where I worked in retirement operations and financial advisor recruiting. I became a financial advisor in 2009 and became a limited partner with Edward Jones in 2010.

I attended the University of Missouri-Saint Louis and graduated in 2005 with a bachelor's degree in business administration. I earned a master's degree in business administration from Webster University in Saint Louis in 2008.

My husband, Josh, is the vice president of Saint Louis Commercial Lending with Great Southern Bank in Clayton. We have two wonderful children, Addison and Landon. Both children keep us busy with their love of sports and Boy/Girl Scout activities.

My branch office administrators, Marie Cooke and April Sterne, are dedicated to providing you with the highest level of service possible with over 19 years of experience combined. Please don't hesitate to call them with questions.

We provide highly personalized service. We use an established process to help you build personalized strategies to achieve your goals. I want to understand what's important to you. All aspects of our business are aligned to help us better understand and meet our clients' unique goals and needs.

We believe relationships are key, and in our view, meeting face to face builds strong relationships. We meet when it's convenient for our clients because we recognize the challenging needs of their business and their lives. We will partner together throughout your life to help keep you on track.
